

Hickses celebrate 65th

Floyd and Nora Hicks

Wedding anniversary

Monday, September 2, was "Trick-N-Treat" day for Floyd and Nora Hicks of Worthville.

The trick was for Connie Kyle, 309 9th St., to invite her grandparents for a visit and barbecue. The "treat" was a surprise family gathering to celebrate the couple's 65th wedding anniversary.

Those present included daughter, Lula Mae Kyle, Worthville, and grandson David and Sue Kyle, with children Jason, Andria and Dustin, and Nancy Ransdell all of Carrollton.

A special treat was a visit from Mrs. Hicks' sisters, Christine Clark, English, and Fannie B. Tharp, Crestwood.

Barbecue was served and the Hickses received several cards and gifts. Cake and ice cream were served inside.

The Hickses were married Sept. 30, 1920, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W.B. Messinct. Hicks, 89, is a retired mechanic with the state highway department where he was given the nickname "Guy." Mrs. Hicks, 85, is a housewife.

The couple had one son, Roy Lee, who was killed in action, in France during World War II.
