Descendants of John Hicks b. Abt 1765 in Anson Co., NC

Generation No. 2

2. WILLIAM² HICKS (*JOHN*¹) was born Abt. 1790 in Anson Co., NC, and died February 19, 1849. He married ELIZABETH LUMSFORD September 30, 1795 in Person County, NC.

Notes for WILLIAM HICKS:

Native of North Carolina and of English Descent

He was educated and married in his native state where he owned a farm upon which he resided most of his life, but was not himself engaged in farming. At the age of twenty five, he began the study of medicine and afterward practiced that profession for many years. Later in life, he became quite a politician, and at one time was sheriff of Person County. His death occurred February 19, 1849, in his eightieth year. He and his wife were life long and devoted members of the Primitive Baptist Church. While he was sheriff he lost all his property in consequence of having levied on some negro property, without taking the property in possession, or taking a delivery bond.

Descendants of John Hicks b. Abt 1765 in Anson Co., NC

Generation No. 3

3. JAMES JONES³ HICKS (WILLIAM², JOHN¹) was born September 02, 1820 in Person County, NC, and died December 06, 1890 in Providence, KY. He married ANNA PEED November 10, 1842 in Person Co., NC.

Notes for JAMES JONES HICKS:

From: Kentucky, A History of the State. Perrin, Battle & Kniffin. 2nd ed., 1885, Webster Co.

JAMES J. HICKS was born in Person County, N.C., September 2, 1820, to William and Elizabeth (Lumsford) Hicks, both natives of North Carolina and of English descent. William Hicks was educated and married in his native State, where he owned a farm upon which he resided most of his life, but was not himself engaged in farming. At the age of twenty-five, he began the study of medicine and afterward practiced that profession for many years. Later in life, he became quite a politician, and at one time was sheriff of Person County. His death occurred February 19, 1849, in his eightieth year. He and wife were life long and devoted members of the Primitive Baptist Church. While he was sheriff he lost all his property in consequence of having levied on some negro property, without taking the property in possession, or taking a delivery bond. James J. Hicks, the youngest of his father's family was employed on his father's farm until he was twenty-two years old. He was then employed at overseeing in North Carolina for two years, after which, in 1846, he came to Kentucky, where he was engaged in the same business for some four years. He then bought a partially improved farm in Henderson (now Webster County), upon which he resided for twenty-three years. In 1873, he sold this place and bought another, two miles north of Providence, where he was extensively and successfully engaged in farming and stock raising until the fall of 1884, when he sold out and removed to Providence. He was married, November 10, 1842, to Miss Anna Peed, a native of Person County, N.C. Ten children were the fruit of this union, of whom three sons and three daughters are living. Mrs. Hicks is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Mr. Hicks belongs to no church, and in politics, is a Democrat.

From 1870 Webster Co census, page 22. James Hicks was a farmer: valued property at $3500 and $600. Other children listed are: Cadwalider, 22, farmer, $2500, $100, b. KY; Sheloy, 16 (male), farmer, b KY; Victora, 13 b KY; and Montzoma, 11 (Male) b KY.

(According to family records the spelling should have been: Cadwalder, Shelby, Victoria, and Montgomery.)

Query KY Ancestors Vol 20, No 2, Page 126 indicates the wife of James J. Hicks may be Anna Peed, who he married 10 Nov 1842 in Person Co., NC. James Hicks was the son of William Hicks of Person Co., NC. He migrated to Henderson Co., KY in 1846.

- Notes for SHELBY HICKS:
From: Kentucky, A History of the State. Perrin, Battle & Kniffin. 2nd ed., 1885, Webster Co
- SHELBY HICKS was born in Henderson County, Ky., January 15, 1854, a son of James J. and Ann (Peed) Hicks, natives of North Carolina, and of English descent. James J. Hicks was married in his native State, where he was engaged in farming for many years. In 1845 he removed with his wife and family to Henderson County, Ky., where some few years later he bought a farm, which was afterward cut off into Webster County, upon which he remained until 1874, when he sold out and bought a farm near Providence, where he still resides. Our subject received an excellent education at Lincoln University, in Illinois, and was employed during the summer season on his father's farm until he was sixteen years old, after which he taught and attended school until he was twenty-two years old. He then engaged as a salesman in a drug store at Providence, Ky., for one year, after which he engaged in the drug business on his own account at Cynthiana, Posey Co., Ind. for two years. For the past four or five years he has been engaged with Prof. W.S. Coleman at Providence Male and Female Academy. The buildings, which are large and commodious, are situated on the top of a hill near the town, and are furnished with all modern appliances, and an excellent library. Prof. Hicks was married, December 26, 1883, to Miss Sallie C. Givens, daughter of T.K. Givens. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are members of the United Baptist Church. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, and is now, and has been for several years, secretary of his lodge. He is a Democrat.
